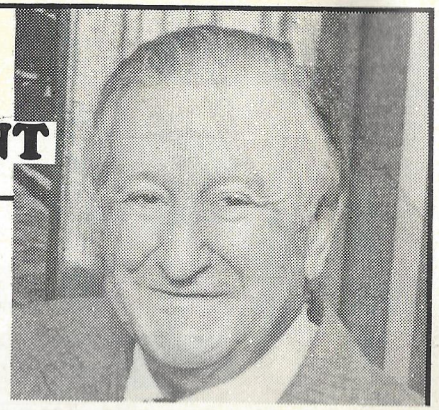
FROM THE PRESIDENT



The extremely high professional level of South Australian Soccer, both on the playing arena and in the administrative circle seems destined to once again gather further momentum this year.

Soccer is Australia's fastest growing sport — especially in the juniors — and SA is certainly doing its part in the promotion of the game at all levels.

Certainly attendances slipped somewhat last season, but this should improve this year. Much to the delight of all concerned.

Sponsorship is once again playing a major part in the year's planning and I sincerely thank those companies involved in making our task that much more easier.

Without the major sponsorships, the South Australian Soccer Federation would indeed be in a worrying situation.

My thanks also to the administrative staff, coaches throughout all the competitions, officers in the various committees who give so much of their valuable time and of course the players.

Without each and everyone of these groups the sport would certainly be a lot poorer.

I wish everybody a successful 1983 season.

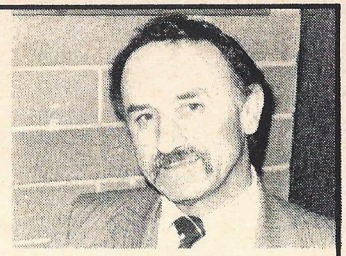
SECRETARY'S REPORT



STABILITY THE KEY FOR '83

Nineteen eighty-three is destined to be a boom year for the South Australia Soccer Federation.

No longer are we struggling for registered players. The successful 1982 season more than proved that. The growth of players throughout all competitions has given the code yet further stability.

Now is the time to concentrate on producing better quality representative players for inter-State and international matches. Once this has been achieved, and I believe we are well on the way to this goal, then the crowds will again flock back to Hindmarsh Stadium.

Soccer's potential has long been recognised by major Australian concerns. Hence it is not surprising to find more top companies deciding to support our great sport.

Hindmarsh Stadium continues to be a magnificient "flagship" for every player in SA. For that we must again thank the State Government and the Hindmarsh Council.

Once again we thank the companies who have financially supported Soccer.

Rothmans of Pall Mall, Ampol Petroleum, Coca Cola Bottlers, Umbro and now PGH who will back the Federation Cup are great supporters. We thank them sincerely.

Without the media, both print and electronic, we would not be able to continually inform our growing hordes of supporters.

This season promises to be one of the most successful on record.

I, and the staff of the SASF, hope you enjoy it to the fullest.

Terry Hayes Wins Rothmans Medal

Peter Hayes, the bustling little midfielder or forward from Birkalla, was a runaway winner of the 1982 Rothmans medal.

The 25-year old former Croatia player won with 29 points, six ahead of Elizabeth veteran player-coach Bobby Henderson.

Azzurri midfielder Stewart Blair was third on 22 points.

Hayes, who originally played for Birkalla before moving to Croatia, then back again last season when Birks were promoted to First Division. Also set a record.

His winning margin was the biggest since the award was introduced in 1978, beating the highest tally by five points.

While he was with Croatia, Hayes kept a Birkalla connection by coaching one of their junior sides.

Hayes has resisted attempts to get him to join NSL clubs West and Adelaide City.

He had previously been with Birkalla for eight years.

Birkalla paid Croatia $4,500 for Hayes and the gold medal he collected at the Rothmans award dinner at the Jo Oberdan Centre was worth $5,000!

Behind third-placed Blair came Polonia veteran import Jan Kierno with 18 points then Croatia sweeper Peter Herd on 17.

Top vote-getters among the clubs were champions Azzurri with 71, next Elizabeth (62) and para Hills and Beograd on 58.

Too Quiet on National Front

By Tom McKain

It was all quiet on the Philips League front for West Adelaide and Adelaide City in 1982 too quiet for the fans, who stayed away in droves towards the end of the season.

West, with new coach Alan Vest, charged early in the season, made the top four and at one stage were considered league title candidates, or at least bound for the Top Four Cup at the end of the season.

But it was not to be.

Always cautious, Vest refused to predict any title victories, saying only that the club would not finish in the relegation zone as it had done in 1981.

However, with results blooming, even he eventually predicted a place in the final four — then things went wrong.

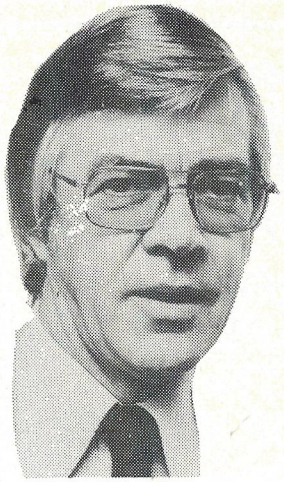
Injuries to Kiwis Steve Sumner and Alan Boath, and their departure to Spain for the New Zealand's World Cup campaign, and Jimmy Wright out from the fourth round of the season with a leg in plaster, contributed to West's plunge down the ladder where they finished ninth — losing the last game 5-2 in Sydney to Sydney City again league champions with 45 points to West's 28.

St. George, in their first season back in the big time were runners-up with 36 points, followed by Wollongong (35) and Heidelberg (34) who pipped Preston on goal difference.

Adelaide City did a Houdini in the run home by avoiding relegation by one point.

A last round home win by 3-2 over fourth-placed Heidelberg gave the SA team 24 points to finish in thirteenth spot above Footscray and Canberra on goal difference, and three points clear of Brisbane City who finished bottom.

Like West, City were on a tight budget and coach Bob D'Ottavi struggled before he and the club parted after the ninth round with City in thirteenth place.



Johnny Perin, who had retired earlier in the season saying 34 was too old to play, took over as coach and while he lifted the club out of that thirteenth berth in succeeding weeks, it is ironic that City finished in the spot they were in when D'Ottavi left.

Perin was joined in a co-coaching position at the end of the season by former Scotland and West Ham goalkeeper Bobby Ferguson, who had been signed earlier in the season as a player.

Vest will continue in 1983 as West coach, Perin and Ferguson have again been given the City job, but Philips has pulled out and the competition will now be known as the National Soccer League.

English promotions firm West Nally is putting up the cash and if the recession recedes the Australia-wide contest should survive for another three years under its new sponsor.

And is must, for without the national competition soccer will be as attractive as district cricket, with only key games and interstate and international fixtures capable of pulling in the fans.

For the record City did win one title the Escort Cup with a 2-1 extra time win over West after a 0-0 draw in the second leg of the $5000 competition sponsored by W.D. & H.O. Wills.

And at the start of the year West took the Ampol Cup, beating City 5-4 on penalties after a 0-0 at the end of regulation time in the final.

On the national scene St. George won the Top Four Cup play-offs, while Leichhardt went to Melbourne and beat Heidelberg in the Philips Cup final with two goals in the last 11 minutes for a 2-1 win.

After screening relegation candidates Canberra and Brisbane City were readmitted to the league for 1983.

West's Graham Hayes was voted Player of the Year in SA by the SA Division of the Australian Soccer Press Association.

The national Player of the Year was Olympic's Peter Kathalos, with Newcastle's David Lowe the Under 21 Player of the Year and Tony Boskovic the Referee of the Year.

SENIOR STATE TEAM

State Coach Alan Vest, surrounded by players from the SA Sports Institute, looks aghast at something he has just read in a newspaper.

Taken at Flinders University during the SASF annual Summer Soccer School in January, 1983.

Wednesday February 3, 1982
vs VOJVODINA Won 1-0

SA:— Crook: Dods, Jones, Perin, B. Nyskohus: Sumner, Honeyman, Marocchi, Melta: J. Nyskohus, Bojczuk. Manager/Coach: Alan Vest — Trainer: Rick Montiadis.

Despite the fact that the game was played prior to the opening of the season the SA players showed great enthusiasm.

The visitors on the other hand had just completed half of their domestic season and arrived having just won a four team tournament in Sydney. Including the Hungarian national team.

The SA side had only had six preparation sessions which included two trial games against Azzurri and West Adelaide.

The match against Vojvodina was played at a fast pace.

The local players acquitted themselves well and after early pressure from the visitors came off at half-time looking the better.

In the second half SA continued to impress and took a deserved lead through a headed goal by Wally Bojczuk.

SA continued to apply the pressure and numerous chances were created but not capitalised upon.

This proved with the right approach and attitude we can provide visiting overseas teams with a stern challenge.

Saturday October, 1982
vs AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL YOUTH TEAM WON 3-0

SA:— Pivetta (Gale): Cole, Dunn (Lees), Manou, B. Nyskohus: Heys, Honeyman (Maricic), Blair (Melta), Kierno: Bojozuk (Villani), and J. Nyskohus (Henderson). Manager/Coach: Alan Vest, Trainer: Howard Wells.

State Coach Alan Vest having been impressed with performances of some of the Under 21 side, which had defeated the National Youth side on the previous Wednesday evening, decided to include the play Gale, Lees, Manou and Villani.

In view of the fact that the game formed an integral part of the Youth teams lead up to the World Youth Cup matches the same tactics were applied as used in the previous game. This was done to see if the National Youth teams' players had learned anything.

The match proved somewhat of an anti-climax with SA coasting home to an easy victory.

The hard and gruelling fitness program laid down for the National team during their week long stay in Adelaide took its toll.

Manou, Cole and Heys were particularly outstanding for South Australia with the latter providing the tall Roy Jones with a very frustrating time.

Goals came from Phil Cole (26m), Graham Honeyman (57m) and Serge Melta (69m).

Wednesday October, 1982
SA Under 21 XI vs AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL YOUTH TEAM Won 1-0.

SA: Gale (Boetel): Shillabeer, Manou, Lees, Tyerman: Villani, Hood, Konstandopoulos (Panagis), Rankin: Jones and Maxwell. Manager/Coach: Mike Wells, Trainer: Nick Joy.

This match was scheduled as a training game only, however in view of the fact that it was treated seriously by all who took part, and more particularly because it was the first time that a State Under/21 side had been assembled.

Veteran Norman Lees was added to lead the side to provide the right blend and balance.

Seven of the players chosen — Boetel, Shillabeer, Konstandopoulos, Panagis, Rankin, Jones and Maxwell were all under 19 with Panagis being 16.

It was expected that the National side would be much fitter and faster than the local players who had been out of training and playing for a number of weeks.

This feeling was quickly dispelled and the local lads provided some attractive and enterprising play.

Manou proved a tower of strength at the back and a vital springboard for SA's mounting of attacks. Lees provided the experience needed to keep his players on their toes and this enabled Shillabeer and Tyerman with a chance to display their talents.

The twin strikers Jones and Maxwell supported by Villani and Rankin gave the National team's defence some anxious moments.

Maxwell sealed the fate of the game with a very cooly taken goal.

Azzurri Takes Second Title

By Tom McKain

Azzurri retained the Rothmans League title for the second year in succession, and also kept hold of the Coca-Cola Top Four Cup.

They were by far the classiest team in the league contest, retaining the title by six points.

Polonia were runners up on 25 points followed by Beograd (23) and Para Hills (22).

Azzurri beat Beograd 4-0 in the final of the Coca-Cola Cup.

Only bleak spot for the champions was that fact that they lost the Charity Cup 3-2 to West Adelaide's Reserve team, which had won the Second Division championship and so gained promotion to First Division for 1983.

Noarlunga finished bottom of the table and are in Second Division for 1983.

It was a big year for Campbelltown who finished fifth to qualify for the 1983 Ampol Cup series along with Croatia, who slipped into sixth place with 15 points.

Although it was a one-horse race for Azzurri it did drop the Federation Cup which it won in 1981, and the trophy went to Croatia, who knocked Azzurri out on penalties and went on to beat Para Hills 2-1 in the final.

On the scoring lists Azzurri's Wally Bojczuk and Para Hills Joe Mullen shared the honors with 13 goals each.

Birkalla, back into the First Division after years in the lower ranks, started off as if they would make the Top Four Cup, but in the end wilted under the pressure and had to be content with eighth place.

Relegated Noarlunga never got going, and switched coaches with veteran Allan Whittle trying to do a rescue operation after Terry Wetton departed.

Port Adelaide looked good at times, but in the end were battling to avoid relegation and finished in second bottom spot.

Elizabeth had their bright spots, but a tame season saw them land in seventh berth, beaten for an Ampol Cup berth on goal difference by Croatia.

Apart from the Rothmans Medal, which went to Birkalla's Terry Hayes (see Medal story) Croatia defender Peter Herd won the Savings Bank of South Australia trophy as the Player of the Year in First Division.

Votes were cast during the season by members of the SA Division of the Australian Soccer Press Association.

SASF DIRECTOR OF COACHING

To some people 1982 may have appeared a depressing year, certainly that is the impression gained when generally discussing matters.

But was it really such a depressing year?

Impressions may certainly have been coloured by the poor economic situation.

Sponsorship was certainly harder to obtain and has thrown a cloud over the future of the National League: On top of this Australia failed to qualify for the World Cup Finals, and attendances were generally down.

But to balance this latter aspect out we must recognise that despite the rapid growth of the game in recent years it is still largely a participation sport rather than a spectator sport.

The pessimism generated in some quarters has come about through out of date thinking and methods which makes many of our senior clubs, social clubs rather than soccer clubs.

Too many are only concerned with matters of self interest rather than working towards the betterment of the game as a whole.

Despite the fact that soccer in Australia has been played for more than a hundred years, it still remains in its infancy in terms of development.

Its greatest need just now is for everyone concerned with the game at all levels to think and act in a positive rather than a destructive manner.

We must get away from the problem of people who are prepared to bring the game down if a decision is made which is not in keeping with their own personal interests.

Soccer is the greatest in the world — clearly born out by the fact that it is played in more countries than there are members of the United Nations. By everyone working together there is no reason why it should not become the number one sport in Australia.

THE PAST YEAR

So what progress was made in 1982 which can help us to approach a new season in a more positive frame of mind.

Nationally the Youth Team has generated a greater sense of pride and self belief by winning the Oceania Tournament and qualifying for the World Youth Cup play-offs. The national senior team performed well in Singapore.

On the local scene our senior State side created a record by going through a season undefeated. Under the guidance of Alan West, victories were gained over Vojvodina and the National Youth team.

The numbers of players, playing the game at all levels, once again grew in 1982. There has been a steady five per cent increase over the past five years, unlike several other states where numbers have been decreasing.

A record number of 316 local coaches attended training courses. Under the National Coaching Scheme of the Australian Soccer Federation this State is set a target of 180 trained coaches per annum.

Since 1978 this figure has regularly been beaten.

The figures for successive years reads 303, 285, 271, 278 and finally 316. Obviously if the game is as depressed as many would have us believe then it is highly unlikely that the number of players and trained coaches would continue to rise.

Few other sports in this State are able to present such facts, certainly very few in the top ten.

Progress very often is only achieved through the implementation of seemingly harsh policies or methods.

In 1981 the SASF introduced its Coaches Licencing and Registration Scheme. Initially it brought howls of protest in a few quarters but by the end of 1982 had become an accepted fact.

By the end of last year 534 were registered and early in 1983 that figure was rapidly approaching the 600 mark.

The Federation has now made a major move towards modifying the rules relating to the very young players playing the game.

This move has been applauded by the education authorities.

Once again it will take some time for the many vested parents/officials to accept this vitally important change.

The sooner people accept that a child is a child and should not be manipulated forced or encouraged to behave as an adult well before reaching adulthood the better.

Imagine the howls that would be emitted by the self same protagonists if laws were changed in every day life for same children to be allowed to drink, smoke and drive motor cars.

Children are not permitted to indulge too early, for their own well being.

At school they are trained and educated in an accepted manner for their future place in life.

Sport is no different. It must be taught in line with the growth and development at stages of each individual child.

There is ample medical information available which shows the dangers of children being forced to play an adult game. Those who do not wish to accept this fact are deluding themselves and equally placing children under extreme and often excessive mental and physical pressures.

The biggest danger to the very young promising youngster is that of sideways development, where many talented youngsters fail to realise their fullest potential through over specialisation too soon and for too long.

Athletics are facing similar problems with the advent of Little Athletics which is creating the same problems and dangers experienced by us over the past five years or so.

The new policies of the Junior Council, ratified by the SASF, have been brought in to protect our youth, help it flourish and develop along the right lines with due regard being paid to the child and the game jointly.

NATIONAL COACHING SCHEME

Over the past twelve months a large number of current and former State representative players attended coaching accreditation courses.

Former International and State players Con Kambas and John Perin gained the Level III Award, whilst Norman Lees, Neil McGachey and Eric Norman are well on their way in this category.

Amongst the 68 Level II attendees State representative players included Steve Amos, Stewart Blair, John Cichinski, Robbie Dunn, Marian Kolecki, Roger Kozuch and Sam Service.

SA SPORTS INSTITUTE

A momentus step was taken in the middle of 1982 by the State Government when SASI was established.

After protracted negotiations the Federation was able to nominate 24 young players for scholarships at the Institute.

The present group of players are involved in what might be termed a pilot venture.

Their progress is being closely monitored and the final results achieved by them will be reviewed in June.

Providing that our progress proves acceptable to the SASI Board then it is highly probable that the venture will be continued for the 1983/4 year.

Places will be open and the Federation will be happy to consider all applications before nominations are made and scholarships awarded.

McDONALD'S SOCCEROO SUPER SKILLS AWARD SCHEME

This excelleny Scheme was introduced last year and has been going through a period of trial and adjustment.

The premise of the Scheme is that it will enable young players to gain a sense of achievement in personal technique development.

The incentive for youngsters is to practice for improvement and perfection a of a series of practices.

Licenced coaches of the SASF are entitled to conduct the appropriate tests at all levels and all coaches attending courses run by the Federation will be issued with all of the necessary information and material.

COACHES LICENCING AND REGISTRATION SCHEME

This Scheme requires all active and practicing coaches to register with the SASF.

Coaches are then graded according to their qualifications and practical experience.

It enables the SASF to maintain a Register of coaches, who they are, where they are and what they have achieved.

This enables the SASF to provide members with information when they are seeking coaches and for coaches who wish to get in touch with other coaches etc.

The SASF is also better able to plan its future development programs. Registered coaches are kept advised of any courses which they may wish to attend.

They are then entitled to attend at a reduced rate.

At the end of 1982 the following Licences/Registration Cards had been issued:—

'B' Licence	15
'C' Licence	54
'D' Licence	119
'E' Licence	39
'F' Licence	287
Registered	20

SUMMARY

In many areas of the game, 1982 was a successful year. This success however could not have been achieved without the great help and assistance of many people, authorities and companies.

Assistance was received in the coaching development area from The S.A. State Government through the Division of Recreation and Sport and the SA Sports Institute, from The Rothmans National Sport Foundation and The Flinders University of SA.

On the many courses which were mounted credit must be paid to those who served as Staff Instructors such as Andrew Bettell, Neil Bonnar, Carlos Buzzetti, Ron Cooper, John Evans, David Howlett, Sam Miskelly, John and John W. Van Der Veeken, Alan Vest and Ron Webster.

Finally to John Perin, Alan Vest and Nick Bojanic who with John Evans and Andrew Bettell, are helping to make the 24 SASI scholarship holders better players.

South Australia entered this Championship as reigning Champions.

Missing from the victorious side of 1981 were Anthony Dorigo, who had joined English side Aston Villa as an apprentice professional; Brenton Hiern and Steve Maxwell who were both injured, whilst Begbie, Campbell, Cole, Kitchin and Wilde failed to gain selection.

As in all championships played on a two Group basis the opening game proved to be the key — win this one and you have a good chance of making the semi-finals, lose it and you then have to win your next two matches to be sure of a place.

The opening match against Victoria saw both sides showing nerves in a scrappy game.

Victoria scored the only goal of the match in the 26th min. from a free-kick.

In the second game SA met a keen and confident ACT side who had beaten the strongly fancied WA side the previous day.

Despite strong local support SA proved the better side and but for some brilliant goalkeeping from National Youth 'keeper Chris Hummell the score would have been much higher than just one.

George Konstandopoulos netted the winner in the 39th minute.

The third game was against WA and the result was vital for both sides.

A bad defensive blunder in the 2nd minute allowed De Koning to score.

SA had much of the play for the remainder fo the half, at times completely outplying WA. But once again for some brilliant 'keeping by Franken (now Australia's No. 2 Youth 'keeper) SA might have been two or three up at half-time.

This gave WA confidence to go and hold out for victory.

The next match was against a very poor Tasmanian side and although our side were draffed down to Tassie's level they were able to coast to an easy 3-1 victory. Joe Mullen netted two with George Konstandopoulos getting the third.

SA's final match was against ACT again. ACT had been one of the most improved sides in the tournament and had earned the right to play SA by defeating a strong NNSW side.

Once again it was Hummell who kept SA at bay and at full-time the score was nil all.

The game then turned to penalty kicks.

David Miller, Pankhurst, Barnett and Alan Miller were all confident in their approach and only Mullen missed from the spot. On the other hand ACT saw three of their penalty chances go begging.

A number of players put up some good performances during the wekk and it was not surprising that four gained selection to train with the initial National Youth squad.

Those who were successful were Joe Mullen, David Miller, George Konstandopoulos and Peter Rankin. — Hutchins and Alberton came close to selection.

S.A.'s original coach Denis Harlow, who was involved in all activities prior to departure, was forced at the last minute to stay behind because of work commitments.

George S. Koplin, sales manager of PGH Bricks, presents a cheque and symbolic gold brick to SA Soccer Federation President George Joseph and secretary Peter Nickolich.

FEDERATION CUP GETS GOLD BRICK FROM PGH

SA soccer has received a $20,000 boost in a package which gives the Federation Cup sponsorship for the first time.

Details of the package from PGH Bricks was announced at a news conference, at which a cheque and a symbolic gold brick was presented to SA Soccer Federation president, Mr. George Joseph.

PGH Bricks' sales manager, Mr. George S. Koplin, said his company was providing cash and assistance for the promotion and marketing of soccer generally in SA -- not only the Federation Cup.

Improving communication between the clubs and the news media would be one of the major priorities, said Mr. Koplin, who is also team manager of Polonia.

PGH Bricks would also be offering players incentives in the various rounds, thus boosting the performance of clubs.

General secretary of the Soccer Federation, Mr. Peter Nickolich said the Federation Cup would now be known as the PGH Federation Cup.

He would be calling for nominations for the cup about the end of February, when a draw for fixtures would be made.

As usual, the Cup would be open to all State and metropolitan league clubs, amateur teams and senior country clubs such as Whyalla, Port Pirie, Mount Gambier, Millicent, Loxton and Berri.

Elimination rounds would start on April 25 (Anzac Day) and Round One would begin on May 14.

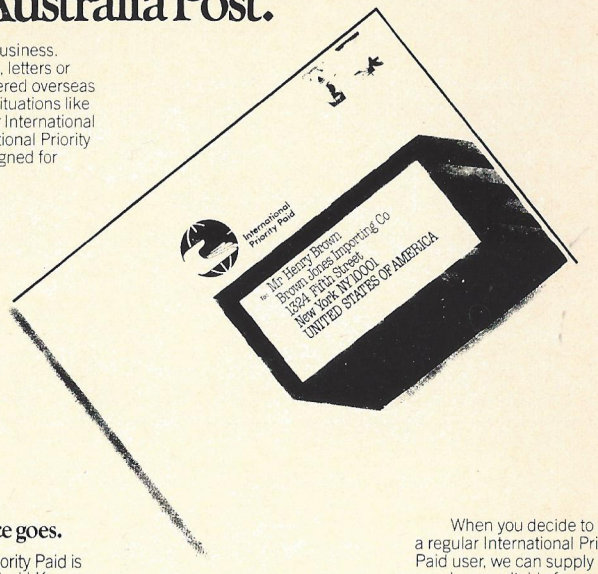
The high speed international service from Australia Post.

It happens in every business. You have documents, letters or packages to be delivered overseas — in a hurry. When situations like this occur, it's time for International Priority Paid. International Priority Paid is a service designed for non-dutiable articles.



Where the service goes.

International Priority Paid is available to the U.S.A., U.K., Hong Kong, Singapore, Japan, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Canada, Taiwan, Malaysia, Peoples Republic of China, Papua New Guinea, France and The Republic of Korea. Australia Post works together with comparable priority services within these countries to offer you high-speed delivery.

How the service works.

Articles can be lodged at most Post Offices. There are hundreds of them, in capital cities and major country centres. You don't have to get things to one central depot.

International Priority Paid articles are handled quite separately from ordinary mail, to speed them on their way overseas. A record is kept of each article.

Pre-determined air schedules let us ensure that your International Priority Paid articles really move along. And then they're hand delivered at the other end. That really adds up to first class treatment.

Delivered on time, or your money back.

At Australia Post we deliver within specific delivery times to International Priority Paid destinations. If we don't deliver on time and the cause was within our control, you get your money back.

Save money, with International Priority paid.

When you check the charges for International Priority Paid against those of other services, you'll find that they're competitive. In fact, International Priority Paid could save you quite a lot of money, particularly if your article is to be delivered outside of major centres. And remember, with International Priority Paid there are no hidden charges.

When you decide to become a regular International Priority Paid user, we can supply free envelopes suitable for your urgent documents. And free labels are available by phoning the International Priority Paid Service Co-Ordinator.

Personal service, too.

In each State capital city, Australia Post has one person whose special responsibility is International Priority Paid. So if you have any enquiries, just ring, and they will be followed up immediately. It's all part of the first class service.

For enquiries, phone the International Priority Paid Service Co-Ordinator on: —

In 1981 at U/15 level WA were champions with SA runners-up. Just one year later the two sides were pitted against each other fighting for 5th and 6th place.

The loss of key players like Andrew Knowles, Simon Green and Steve Douglas who all suffered severe ankle injuries, which required surgery, meant that the squad which finally departed was considerably under strength.

Nevertheless the final squad had done well in its lead up games and final preparations and one could say that its fate was determined early on the first day of the competition.

Playing the host side NSW in the opening match at 10.30 a.m. the SA lads found themselves three goals down inside eleven minutes and whilst the side regained its composure in the second half and had much of the play they were unable to pull back the heavy deficit.

In the second match against Queensland, SA were clearly the better side for most of the match but were unable to convert the many chances created into goals. Queensland left this game with much relief to go on and surprise everyone by making the final.

The withdrawal of Tasmania meant that there was an imbalance in the overall competition and unlike Group B there was no third chance to come back and qualify for the semi-finals.

Captain of the side John Panagis was clearly SA's best player throughout the tournament and attempted to lead his side by example. Few were unable to rise to the same level and several players who had travelled as potential 'stars' were sadly out of touch.

Other playes who did perform well included Chris Tsoleridis, who was still only fourteen, and did well when given his chance to play. Boyd Shoebridge and Graeme Schache were consistent performers.

The only consolation which SA could draw was that the two sides form its Group took out first and second places.
